Linen and Shoes.

Women are endowed with strange vagaries, and while extremely fastidious in many ways are very neglectful in others. Even the swiftest society girl is not as particular as to the freshness of her collar and cuffs as the plain everyday man of business. To change his linen at least once a day is a sort of religion with most men. With a woman it is different. They will inspect their collar and cuffs after a day's hard wear and decide that they will do, not recognizing the fact that if any doubt exists on the matter they should be consigned to the laundry without demur. Again, a man is much more concerned as to the state of his shoes than a woman. Even the poor clerk on a meager salary spends his nickel a day for a shine without grudging, and if it be imperative that the nickel be saved he gets up earlier in the morning and wields the blacking brush himself. The woman will gown herself in Worth's or Paquin's latest creation and forget to look at her shoes. —Godey's Magazine.

Admiral Bunce Praises Women.

The Brooklyn navy yard was a busy place when a reporter called there to ask Admiral Bunce, the commandant, what part he thought women would play in war. "You want to know how women can make themselves useful," he said. "Well, how can they not be useful? It seems to me that they are always doing things that make them an extremely important factor in the world's affairs. I know what the horrors as well as the sinews of war are, and I say that we cannot overestimate the service of women in times of war.

"A few bright, cheery, good women will do more to keep civilization and civility alive in a camp than any number of rules or regulations. Their ministrations will make victory brighter, defeat easier and death less horrible." —New York Tribune.

Movement Against Foot Binding.

A strong sentiment against foot binding is beginning to make itself felt in China even in the most exclusive circles. A short time ago ten Chinese women of the highest social position in Shanghai invited the officers of the Natural Foot society, an organization of foreign women, to a public dinner, and a return invitation soon followed. At both these functions there was much discussion of the best way of abolishing the custom of foot binding. Since then the Natural Foot society has had a public meeting, at which the Chinese Anti-foot Binding society was represented. The latter organization is composed of men of high standing and great influence, and they intend to petition the emperor for the enforcement of an ancient law against foot binding.

Woman Cod Fisher.

Mrs. William Champlin of Montauk has just made for herself a record as a cod fisher. Her husband, who is engaged in the cod fishing business off Montauk, has usually been accompanied on his trips by another boy man. A short time ago he was taken sick, and Mrs. Champlin volunteered to fill his place as "second man" in the boat. Her husband was rather dubious as to her ability to fill the bill, but she was not to be daunted.

She donned the attire of a fisherman and set out with her husband's partner. The day was spent in fishing, and when they returned to the beach the couple had caught together a total of 175 fish.

Noted Women and Marriage.

Noted women have shown no pre-occupations desire to wed and make homes of their own. George Eliot was married 40 than 30 when she married for the first time and close upon 60 when her second marriage took place in 1880. Charlotte Bronte, though she had several offers, did not make choice of a husband — and even then only after lengthy deliberation — until she was 38. George Sand never seems to have lost her fascination for men, and even as a white haired grandmother we find among her adoring friends and correspondents such geniuses as Flaubert and Tourgueneff.

Summer Sleeves.

All the pretty diminishing variations possible to the artistic and inventive genius of the dressmaker are used upon the tops of the summer sleeves, which, without exception, are trim, close and plain in effect on the forearm. The gowns of net, organdie, mull and similar transparent materials have sleeves that are shirred in spiral or serpentine fashion round and round the arm, or they are laid in the minutest tucks or lightly puffed over a net foundation. Sometimes the puffs are used alone or alternating with flat bands of insertion. —New York Post.

NOTICE OF DISTRIBUTION.

IN THE DISTRICT COURT OF the Second Judicial District of the State of Nevada, Washoe county.

In the Matter of the Estate of James McDermott, Deceased.

Notice is hereby given that M. Hatten, the administrator of the estate of James McDermott, deceased, has filed in this Court his petition, praying for an order authorizing him to distribute the residue of the estate of James McDermott, deceased, among the persons entitled, and all persons interested in the said estate, are hereby notified to be and appear, before the District Court of the Second Judicial District of the State of Nevada, Washoe county, at the Court-room of said Court, in the City of Reno, on Saturday, the 12th day of June 1898, at 10 o'clock A. M. of that day, being the time and place set for hearing said petition; and there to show cause if any there be, why an order authorizing the said administrator to distribute the residue of said estate, among the heirs of said deceased, according to law, should not be granted.

Dated, May 27, 1898.

The Trans-Mississippi and International Congress is composed of delegates from every State and Territory West of the Mississippi river. The idea of this exposition originated in that Congress at its session at Omaha in 1895, and the project has become a National enterprise and the National Commission has been organized and is in active service, there being one commissioner for each of the several departments of the Government. Most of the Trans-Mississippi States are well along in the way of gathering exhibits from their respective States and many of them have made liberal appropriations, while others are preparing exhibits through private enterprise.

Vice-President H. B. Maxson of Reno, has made arrangements whereby he can get Nevada exhibits, shipped from any point in the State along the line of the C. P. R. R., to Omaha and return, and he requests all persons who wish the interests of the State advertised, to co-operate with the Exposition County Commissioner of his county, whose name is shown above, and prepare some product of his county and send it to the nearest point on the C. P. R. R. from which place it will be sent to Omaha and exhibited, and returned to the same point at the close of the exposition, free of expense to the exhibitor. Full information should accompany everything sent for exhibition. Before sending anything to the line of the railroad a full description should be given the Exposition Commissioner of the county, who in turn will notify the Vice-President, who will notify him what action to take, otherwise there might be many applications. Apply to your County Representative for further information, and don't let this opportunity of advertising the resources of Nevada be lost.

TAXING MONOPOLIES.

The Senate amendment to the House Revenue bill proposed by Gorman of Maryland, imposing a tax of one-quarter of one per cent on the gross receipts of all corporations doing a business exceeding $250,000 a year, was defeated by a vote of 27 to 34. White of California then proposed the Gorman amendment so modified that it levied a tax of one-fourth of one per cent on all corporations engaged in refining sugar or petroleum. This amendment was adopted by a vote of 33 to 26. It affects the Sugar Trust and Standard Oil Company, two of the greatest monopolies in the United States or elsewhere.

An analysis of the vote on this amendment shows that it was supported by twenty-two Democrats, seven Populists and Silver Republicans and four Straight Republicans, and opposed by twenty-four Straight Republicans and two Gold Democrats. This vote, like many others which affect corporations, furnishes food for reflection. There are no greater monopolies extant than the Sugar Trust and Standard Oil Company. They control the sugar and oil supply of the United States and fix their own prices for those necessities. Their dividends are enormous, as an advance of a fraction of a cent a pound in sugar or a cent or two a gallon in oil means a profit of millions to the monopolies. Notwithstanding the rapaciousness of both only four Republicans in the Senate of the United States vote to make them contribute a very small percentage of the millions they extort from the people to defray the expenses of the war with Spain. How can any self-respecting person, any one who is not owned by corporations or subsidized by the trusts, support a party that is almost unanimous in its opposition to any legislation that has a tendency to force monopolies to contribute to the support of the Government?

The Spanish fleet is reported to be in a generally bad condition. Captain E. S. Osborn of New York who has just returned from Curacao says he had a splendid opportunity of viewing the fleet and took the following observations:

"The vessels looked as if they had experienced heavy weather. One destroyer had three masts and the other four. The first had lost her foremast. Both boats were in a most dilapidated condition. The flagship had very little coal and provisions. They rolled and pitched even in harbor, so light were their supplies, and a rattling gun might easily have sunk the torpedo destroyers. I was so close to the vessels that I could count the men as they moved about. In all candor, I must say that a more hungry, starved, dejected or dirtier looking lot of steamers I never saw, even in tramp steamers. The bottoms of all the boats were covered with grass and barnacles. The flagship was in particularly bad condition. I really felt sorry for the men."

A Washington dispatch says Commodore Schley bombarded Santiago without the consent of the President, who had arranged a plan of peace based upon friendly intervention by the powers of Europe. The President expected to see Spain brought to terms, when the Spanish fleet was bottled up at Santiago, and hastened to direct Schley to withhold attack, but Schley anticipated interference and bombarded the forts at Santiago de Cuba.

It is generally believed that Spain cannot carry on the war a month longer. The Bank of Spain cannot furnish funds for the Government and the money syndicate is not disposed to take its bonds at any price. Money is as essential as heavy ordnance in modern warfare, and as Spain cannot borrow or beg it she will be obliged to sue for peace.

SEVENTY-FIVE women, all of prominent families, of St Joseph, Mo., met in council of war last Sunday and gave strong disapprobation of the unfriendly attitude of France toward America; by resolving to neither buy, nor wear French-made goods, and to discourage the merchants whom they patronize from selling French products.

Captain Clark, commander of the Oregon, is a Vermont man, as Admiral Dewey is. For a state that has no seaport, the Green Mountain commonwealth is certainly playing a star part in the present war drama.

Gen. Joseph Wheeler, when asked about his sensations in a blue uniform said: "It feels as if I had been off on a farlough and had just got back."

CONDENSED WAR NEWS.

The regulars in camp at Mobile, Ala., were breaking camp yesterday and going on board the transport Matawan. Their destination was not given, but it was believed they were going to Tampa.

A cable from Cape Haytien states that an armed American trans-Atlantic steamer tried to run over the first line of torpedo defenses at Santiago early yesterday morning and the Spaniards let her do so, but as she was running over the second line, they were fired and she sank immediately.

At Paris it is believed that Admiral Cervera's fleet is not at Santiago at all and high authority claims the ships that are there are Captain Villamil's torpedo squadron and that Admiral Cervera after leaving Cape Verde maneuvered in order to deceive the Americans and then started at full speed for Manila.

Commodore Schley has communicated to the Navy Department that he was satisfied himself that Cervera's fleet is at Santiago de Cuba.

It is now stated that a second Spanish fleet is approaching West Indian waters to reinforce Cervera's fleet. It is said the fleet comprises sixteen vessels.

BONDS GALORE.

The Bondholders Well Represented in the United States Senate.

EDITOR JOURNAL: The champions of the bondholders in the United States senate are making themselves appear ridiculous by casting slurs on the legal tenders. Senator Nelson of Minnesota in his plea for bonds made the following attack on the greenbacks:

"Of all the loans made during the Civil war the forced loan covered by the greenbacks was the most expensive. As proposed issue of legal tender notes was not called for by any lack of money in circulation as the per capita circulation was now higher than at any time since 1892 and only eleven cents lower than it was then. He felt that the notes if issued would be an added menace to the Treasury."

If Senator Nelson had carefully observed financial events during the Civil war, he would never have made the foregoing attack on the greenbacks. In the first place it would have been a financial impossibility to have successfully prosecuted the Civil war with coin. On July 7th, 1861, the total amount of coin in circulation in the United States was $246,400,000. A few reverses on the battlefield caused all this specie to take to the woods and before July 1862 there was not a dollar of coin in circulation except on the Pacific Coast. In the meantime Uncle Sam was obliged to suspend specie payment and prosecuted the war to a successful finish with legal tenders, and it was ten years after the war was over before the bondholders succeeded in getting the Resumption Act through Congress.

Considering our resources and population we are now better able to prosecute a four year's war with legal tenders, and maintain an army of three million soldiers in active service, than we were to prosecute the war of the Rebellion. But great as our resources are, I defy any champion of the bondholders to show how such a war can be successfully conducted on a gold basis.

WEATHER BULLETIN

(Copyright, 1898, by W. T. Foster.)

St. Joseph, Mo., June 4.—My last bulletin gave forecasts of the storm wave to cross the continent from June 5th to 12th and 13th to 17th.

The next disturbance will reach the Pacific coast about June 18th, cross the West of Rockies country by close of 19th, great central valleys 20th, to 22d Eastern States 23d.

Warm wave will cross the west of Rockies country about June 18th, great central valleys 20th, Eastern States 22d.

Cool wave will cross West of the Rockies country about June 21st, great central valleys 23d, Eastern States 25th.

Temperatures of the week ending at 8 A. M. June 23th will average below normal in the Northern, above in the Southern and about in the Pacific slope States. Rainfall for the same week will be generally below normal East of the Mississippi and North of the Ohio, and normal in the Southern States and above in the Rocky Mountain countries.

From about June 18th to last of the month drouth condition will prevail North of the Ohio and East of the Mississippi. This will concern the corn more than it will other crops. July and August are the critical months for corn and if this June drouth continues into July corn may suffer. General forecasts of July weather will be given in bulletin of June 30th.

Cotton will catch a drouth this year and in some parts of the cotton States considerable damage will result.

FIRST NEVADA U. S. VOLUNTEERS.

Carson Sends the Boys Off in Fine Style and Reno Gives Them an Ovation.

The First Nevada Volunteer Cavalry broke camp at Carson yesterday morning with the purpose of moving to Cheyenne in compliance with orders from the War Department. Tents disappeared as if by magic, blankets were rolled up and the troop was quickly in marching order. The citizens of Carson presented the troop with a handsome banner, District Attorney McGowan in behalf of the citizens making the presentation. Captain Linscott accepted the banner in behalf of the volunteers, pledging the lives and honor of the troop to maintain the honor of the State whose motto "All for our country" was emblazoned upon the banner.

Carson was in holiday attire. The school children numbering several hundred marched in procession carrying flags, the Carson Brass Band, the Carson Guard and thousands of citizens accompanied the volunteers to the train. Cannon boomed, bells clanged, whistles tooted and the people cheered as the young warriors boarded the cars and as the train slowly moved from the station, there was a prolonged shout and many a God bless you boys from fathers and mothers.

Governor Sadler accompanied the boys to this point, the train arriving just before the noon hour.

Upon their arrival here they were given an ovation by the citizens, who had gathered in large numbers at the depot. Company C, N. N. G. and a delegation of the G. A. R. received them and they were immediately escorted to the Pavilion where the ladies of the Red Cross Society had prepared a splendid luncheon. During the afternoon they strolled about town, visited friends and relatives and at 5:30 one of the buglers of the troop sounded the assembly, on the corners of the principal streets. Shortly after the boys fell in at the Pavilion and marched to the Congregational Church where the Red Cross Society had prepared a substantial hot dinner. The ladies had also put up lunches for the journey to Cheyenne. Bandanna handkerchiefs had been procured and the lunches were put up in these, so that after the lunch was consumed each trooper would have a big handkerchief.

After dinner the troop was escorted to the Palace Hotel corner where a stand had been erected by Mr. J. A. Fitzgerald and appropriately decorated with flags and bunting. Two big bonfires were lighted and a program of exercises previously arranged carried out. The whole town was out making a vast assemblage of people. President Stubbs of the University called the audience to order and introduced Hon. T. V. Julien, who spoke words of encouragement and farewell to the boys. Hon. B. F. Ourler followed in a neat address, wishing the troop God speed and a safe return.

Dr. Stubbs then called Captain Linscott to the stand, also Major D. R. Finlayson of the University Cadet Corps. The latter in behalf of the Cadets presented Captain Linscott with an elegant sword. Lieutenants Gignoux and Wright were called forward and Hon. F. H. Norcross in behalf of the citizens of Reno presented each of the officers with a sword. The officers all made brief responses, promising to perform their duty as far as it was possible for them so to do.

Governor Sadler was called upon and came forward and addressed the departing troop briefly.

Dr. Stubbs closed the exercises with words of praise and encouragement, bidding the boys to be true to their State and their country and expressing hopes of their safe return.

Mrs. Layton, with a chorus of voices from the High School, gave selections of vocal music and the Wheelmen's Band played a number of patriotic airs. Cheers were plentiful and hearty and the great crowd followed the boys to the cars to say farewell. There were a number of affecting scenes as mothers and sisters bid their loved ones goodbye and the First Nevada Cavalry started on their journey to the front.

Following is a corrected list of the members of the troop:

Captain, Fred M. Linscott.
First Lieutenant, Fred E. Gignoux.
Second Lieutenant, Walter O. Wright.

The general Committee of Arrangements for the coming Fourth of July celebration met last evening. S. J. Hodgkinson was elected Chairman and Chas. Coffie, Secretary, Wm. Funniger, Treasurer. After some discussion it was decided to appoint sub-committees and Messrs. McInnis, Fitzgerald, and Nathan were appointed as a Finance Committee and A. Nelson and T. H. Brown as Committee on Transportation. Invitations were issued to Governor and Staff and to military organizations to join in the celebration. Some other matters of a minor character were talked over and the Committee adjourned until next Saturday evening.

Promptly Dismissed.

Captain Linscott promptly discharged M. Bowman, E. A. Murphy and W. Murphy from his troop here yesterday on account of drunkenness. Two of them were lodged in jail and their uniforms taken from them. Their places were immediately filled by enlistment from Reno. Captain Linscott had fully twenty applications to join the troop during the stay here yesterday.

THE RED CROSS.

A Flourishing Organization Now in Reno

The noble society of the Red Cross now numbers over one hundred and fifty members of our best men and women of the city of Reno, and every one of our citizens should consider it an honor, privilege and duty to enroll his or her name under its banner. Every American should be only too glad to assist his country in whatever way lays in his or her power, whether it be in the front of battle, or doing the needed work at home, of scarcely less importance.

Everyone cannot go to the front, but everyone can do his or her might to aid the cause for which our soldiers fight. The Government cannot do everything, but the Red Cross aims to assist and encourage the soldier in ways scarcely less important than that done by the Government itself. In all the cities and towns throughout the country this great work is going on. In San Francisco this society has done a great work in aiding the soldiers that have recently been concentrated there. The work of this organization can better be appreciated when we consider that the good people of San Francisco alone have contributed funds to their local society in excess of thirty-two thousand dollars, which is added to by many hundreds each day.

It must not be understood that this society simply furnishes delicacies and refreshments to the soldiers, but its great work is in caring for the health and comfort of the soldiers, in providing for the sick and wounded and the numberless things required by the army which the Government cannot fully or properly supply. The local society here is in need of funds and it calls upon our people to supply them. We have now two troops in the field, with the prospects of a battalion of infantry soon to follow. These boys are in the society's special care, but their work is broader still. The society has arranged to open up an account at each of our banks where every one is requested to call and deposit what he can afford. There is also a committee appointed to solicit contributions. But don't wait for the committee to call upon you, but go at once and give for this holy cause. The officers and employees of the Nevada and California railroad head the subscription list with a contribution of $73.50. Go thou and do likewise.

avoided by ordinary industry; that they

no property; that plaintiff prays to be restored to her maiden name, Mary Elizabeth
